

There is absolutely no question that Incumbent Local Exchange Carriers remain, in fact, dominant. Access by independent access providers to Local Exchange Carrier circuitry and facilities is essential to ensure the benefits of competition, including service enhancements and competitive pricing. Removing this designation will most certainly encourage monopolistic market practices. This is manifestly and NOT in the public interest.